FOREWORD

¶ We have worked and played together; we have shared our joys and sorrows, our accomplishments and failures. We have gone our way as comrades through four glorious college years.

¶ If this book, in which we have tried to catch a little of the spirit of these happy years, should bring back memories in the days to come of the precious hours we have spent together—memories of true friendship and companionship—we shall feel that the earnest labor spent upon it has not been in vain.

THE THEME

¶ Many, many years ago, a nymph, called Clytie, loved Apollo, the Sun-God, who for a short time returned her love, and then spurned her. Because, after this rejection of her love, Clytie could know no happiness on earth, Zeus changed her into a sunflower, so that she might be happy again in following the course of her lover, day by day.

¶ Because the name of our annual, HELIANTHUS, means "sunflower" we have chosen this story as an appropriate theme.

¶ We ask each of you to let your fancy run free, and follow us through these pages in which we have tried to create again the setting of this old Grecian love story.

MRS. LELIA S. LOVING

DEDICATION

With grateful appreciation to her, who, because of her unfailing sympathy and her loving care, has many times brought the tenderness of our "mothers" to be with us here, we affectionately dedicate this

Friend and Counsellor

Whose genial spirit and wise advice have influenced the lives of generations of
Randolph-Macon Students

Mrs. W. H. Edwards

always felt that anything she could do for Randolph-Macon was a labor of love.

Now her many friends here feel most keenly the loss of her noble and inspiring presence

Her gentle womanliness and sympathy endeared

Mrs. James Morgan

to all who knew her and especially to the Webb Hall girls whose house-mother she was for three years

Cl^{as}ses pool, the deep living wood
The Cl^{as}ses and satyrs play,
She w^{as} in the wood a child
And sat in the wood a child

Values

*Once a maiden went a-wandering
Through a jingling town,
She sought in many a painted store
To buy a silken gown.
But though she went to countless shops
She found them dull and bare,
The lovely shining gown she sought
Simply wasn't there.*

*Once a maiden went a-wandering
Through a star-hung night,
And found a gown of star dust,
Spangled, silver-white.
The maid forgot the robe of silk,
Forgot the smoky town,
When we can have a dress of stars,
Who wants a silken gown?*

Song

*The moon is a tilted silver cup
Held to the lips of Night,
Filled with a bubbling, golden draught—
Elixir of delight.
And you and I and the Night drink deep
Of a joy that is sweet and high,
For life is love when we all are young—
You and the Night and I.*

*And ever the bubbling magic flows
The silver moon—brim o'er;
Tho' we drink our fill we shall leave enough
For a million lovers more,
And other lovers will drink with Night
Deep of the vintage gold,
For the Night will be still young, my dear,
When you and I are old.*

*"Oh poet, why do you stare
Toward the smoky hills?
Once you sang a song
That makes the whole world thrill
But, quiet now by a smouldering fire,
You listen while all is still."*
The evening sky slipped silent by
Beyond the distant hill.

*"Ah lad, once a poet dreamed
In the ages behind the sea,
And Beauty caught the fragile dream
And dropped it here for me.
Now I must weave a lacy dream
For someone else to see."*

As she gathered blossoms gay
Apollo, monarch of the sun,
Thought her fair, and swore that he
Would seek her when the day was done.

The 1927 basket-ball season was an unusually exciting one. The Seniors and Freshmen had good team-work and some outstanding players, but were eliminated by the superior playing of the other teams. The championship game between the Juniors and Sophomores had all the rivalry of an Odd-Even match. The game was well played and fast—the victory went to the Juniors.

As usual, there was keen interest on the part of everyone in the hockey season. The Freshmen showed very poor form throughout the run of match games—being defeated every time. The Sophomores showed a slight improvement and won one or two games while the Seniors were defeated only once and that time by the Juniors who won every game they played until the championship match Thanksgiving and then they tied the Seniors for final honors.

The preliminary baseball games this spring were played off with quite a lot of snap and enjoyment in spite of many weak places in the teams. The championship game was called the afternoon before May Day and was between the Sophomores and Seniors. The underclassmen quite outplayed the Seniors and won the game with an easy margin.

Field Day, 1928

The Field Meet Was Won by 1930

FIELD Day was held on the morning of May the fifth, in spite of the blazing sun. The Sophomore class in a whirl of glory came out on top with a total score of 682 points, while the Freshmen came in second with a score of 468 points. The Juniors were third with 363 points and the Seniors, who this year did not have many entries held fourth place with a score of 28 points.

Borghill Prior, '29, broke her own record for the baseball throw with a difference of six inches, making the total distance 199 feet, 10 inches. The archery contest around which centered much interest was won by Bessie May Edwards, '28.

After the championship banner had been presented to the Sophomores, several girls were awarded R.-M.'s among whom were: Borghill Prior, '29, Jean Frances, '30, Elizabeth McWhorter, '30, Margaret Dyer, '30, and Dorothy Urquhart.

He Features in her heart
He wanted to be bound no more
But left the morn to drive his coursers through the sky.

The Joys of Being a Senior

The event of the Hatchet Party was most welcome for the Juniors and Seniors were glad to proclaim that peace should exist between them forever more.

The Senior Reception proved itself the gala event of the year. The faculty and their hostesses did themselves proud in the numerous talking bouts which were held that night.

The Lanterna Parade caused many a tear to flow--especially those belonging to Sophomores.

EVENDAY

Even So!

Who has ever before seen such mammoth lollipops, Peter's Pan's own grotto, the fairy dell and an honest to goodness glass mountain surmounted by a lovely princess? It was hard to believe our eyes when we awoke on Even day, but that afternoon when the rancorous clang of the fire engine bell reached our terrified ears we knew what it was all about, even if traditions were slightly disregarded by "it" who lead the time-honored procession with many puffs.

Drama par excellence

The first play of the year was given by the Junior class, entitled "The Cherokee Rose." The audience was charmed with the beauty and simplicity of the play itself which was written by Velma Bell. Katherine Travis innovated quite a different theme in "The Good Ship Kagaroo" which was given by the Sophomore Class. The Hornpipe and the sailors' chants will not soon be forgotten.

HELIANTHUS

An Odd Tomorrow

Who said "Tomorrow is never here"? We would like to have seen the poor man Odd Day. No doubt he would have been so disillusioned by the very evident fact that "tomorrow was here," that he would have died of heart-failure. The unusual scheme for Odd Day resulted in rather amazing effects which were appreciated by both Odds and Evens. The stunt voiced the unspoken dreams for the future of R.M. of every girl. The lantern parade that night was attended by futuristic witches who brought the day to a successful close.

RANDOLPH-MACON was hostess to the thirteenth annual conference of the S. I. A. S. G. Eighty-five delegates from southern colleges were here for three days, April 18-21. Webb Hall was turned into a guest dormitory, while Webb inmates founded and populated Greater Randolph-Macon.

In addition to the scheduled meetings which were, for the most part, well worthy of attendance, several unique forms of entertainment were provided. The first evening, Wednesday, April eighteenth, all delegates who had arrived were given free tickets to the Isis. Thursday night "The Pines" entertained the delegates with a progressive supper. On Friday afternoon Sweet Briar was hostess at a tea given by them in honor of our guests.

Among other ideas which were gleaned from the conference we've learned a brand new method of election, we've heard what the ideal Student Government should do for the individual, and above all we've been convinced more firmly than ever that Randolph-Macon should be proud of her Student Government organization.

It's All Greek to Us

Although the audience could not understand a word which was said, it could certainly marvel at the very remarkable play which was given by the Greek students under the direction of Miss Whiteside. Randolph-Macon is very proud of this event in our school year for it was a very unusual undertaking.

A Tale of Robin Hood

PART I.

Scene: The village green of Nottingham, on the edge of Sherwood Forest

Time: Thirteenth century

The children are playing on the green, awaiting the Queen's arrival, until the Minstrel comes to tell us all that Her Majesty is approaching. The Minstrel crowns the lovely Queen, and announces that there is to be a beautiful pageant presented for the pleasure of her court.

PART II.

Scene: A glade in the heart of Sherwood Forest

Time: In the days of Robin Hood

A flash of orange! 'Tis Shadow-of-a-Leaf, Maid Marian's fool—a graceful fellow he is. But, look—who interrupts his pleasure? Shadow-of-a-Leaf must hide himself behind some bush or flower, so that he may see.—Yes! Just as he thought—that Robin Hood person with his so-called Merrie Men. Why do they insist upon using his glade for their revelry? And the archers too come down to practice for their sport. And look at that fat old Friar Tuck, tumbling down the hill—drunk as usual.

But now all eyes are turned to the edge of the glade to see the lovely Maid Marian, daughter of Fitzwalter. Robin Hood has long cherished a love for the maid, and he looks at her yearningly.

Now Shadow-of-a-Leaf has not yet left, but lingers on, watching the lovers with jealous eyes. Suddenly the fool rushes forth and stabs Robin Hood in the back. Shadow-of-a-Leaf grows repentant for his rash act and the fairies are summoned. Titania the fairy queen and her maids hold council and decide that the only cure for the lovers will be the petals of a white rose. Robin Hood recovers and the Merrie Men are summoned to carry the lovers joyfully away.

Commencement!

The word alone connotes all that it was—the crowds of fond parents—frenzied packing—the daisy chain—the commencement service—the diploma—and then the good-byes. It can't be described—it has to be lived.

The Old Time Idea of Humor

(Taken from ancient HELIANTHUS)

MARY: "My new roommate is so funny, she chews foolscap."

JANE: "You had better hide your hat, then."

"Many are called, but few get up," applies very aptly to the alarm-clockers on C.

SHE: "Don't you really know the difference between a haunted house and an adorable fellow who wants to kiss you?"

HE: "No, honestly."

SHE: "Well you can't let the haunted house."

MISS G. (who can't be suited): "Now you haven't done this right at all. If I had known I was going to send an idiot after that package, I would have gone myself."

MISS M.: "They certainly do use a lot of starch in this laundry."

MISS D.: "Really?"

MISS M.: "You ought to see my wash-stand."

Some Good 'Uns Now!

I think my girl is very nice,
 But she embarrasses me
 On every date,—you wonder how?
 I mean financially.

For dating Tom, I have great zeal
 Because he's got that Check's appeal.

"You can't smoke cigarettes,"
 The Student President cries
 "Well, not yet, but I'm learning,"
 The timid freshman sighs.

Dates with W. and L. men
 Help retain one's youth;
 I'm a living example
 Of that remarkable truth.

I started when a freshman
 To go around with Bill
 And now it's four years later
 And I'm a freshman Still!

The Coming Attraction of the Year!

The handsome Herbert Lipscomb is taking the leading role in "The Student Prince." Highly romantic! Gorgeous costuming! Beautiful women! If you see this, you will anxiously await his next picture.

Dear Sister Ruth:

ALPHA DELTA PI

Babe, we really do miss you this year. The chapter is not the same without you, but it is still mighty good and rather prominent, too. Sister Pig is head of the snoop committee and she enjoys it right much. I mean the walking and light permission. Sister Elizabeth Mason is President of Webb Hall besides being Dr. Stowe's "little helper" in the Education Department.

Sister Gladys Stetzer left the University of Tennessee to worship at the shrine of Alpha Delta Pi here. She is one of the most loyal members.

I want to ask you something. The Am Sams want to put a covered walkway from our house to their cabin, so they can keep their food warm carrying it from one place to the other on Tuesday nights. I think it will ruin our view but I hate to think about the dear, little Am Sams having indigestion because of any fault of ours. What do you think?

We've kept the house just grand this year. It stays spotless, all of the time—it hasn't been used much. Sister Pig as custodian of the key is a wonder.

I see a lot of the Freshmen and they are darling. I have my favorites—but I'll tell you about that later.

We are all keeping up with our music and making quite a success of it. Some of the sisters seem to have the music appeal and their dates play in Senior Parlor for the girls.

Sis is still giggling as much as ever. She sends you her love.

Wish you would come up real soon.

Love in the Bond of Alpha Delta Pi, JACK.

CHI OMEGA

Dear Emily:

Have you heard the good news? I'm an Am Sam. Isn't that grand? They thought maybe I would be President of Main Hall and I didn't disappoint them. Got it unanimously. Since I got in the order I have gotten Annie Hoover, Jane and Jinks in. Dot used her influence too. Now say that's not good work! Jinks and Jane are not going to be president of their classes but they have some other officers for next year.

Wish you would come up for May Day. Al is going to be in the court. We certainly are proud of her.

Our Freshmen are mighty cute and there are so many of them we can't hardly remember them all. We got the five girls from New Jersey. I wish you could know all of the children—some are very active and well known around school.

Chester is just as cute and chubby as ever. You ought to see her at meetings and initiation—you wouldn't recognize her as the same person.

Must stop now and go to executive board meeting, student committee meeting, supper at the cabin, a councilors meeting and several others.

Love in Chi Omega,

BECKY.

PI BETA PHI

Jeanie Dear:

If you could only be back to see our chapter now,—we are really getting out and doing things, and Gillie, Beverly's friend, is the latest and largest of our accomplishments. She has already justified our interest in her by laying at our wigwam door her many athletic laurels, and too, she will be Mrs. Mitchell's first maid in watching over the Freshmen in New Hall next year, and putting them tenderly to sleep each night.

And Jeanie, our Freshmen are darling. We got every single one we wanted, and more too. They are all so lucky to be under our guiding hand.

But I must tell you about Vogler. Everybody on campus who writes at all has been slaying away creating plays for her to lead in. Of course her name is already made but she puts any playwright—no matter how obscure—into lasting prominence.

Of course you knew I was Maid of Honor in the Court didn't you? Yes, my dear, and I'm simply petrified that my dress will not be as lovely as it should; but then, one can always overshadow a delinquency in clothes by personality.

That is all for this time, but I will write again soon. By the way, if you would like to send the chapter a present, a LARGE bottle of Arnica would be splendid because our necks are killing us and some say it is from holding our heads too high. Of course this is only a joke and the swift arrow of Pi Phi carries my love to you.

NANCY KEITH.

Frankie, honey:

PHI MU

I got so furious the other day. Somebody told me that the Phi Mu type was athletic. I just cussed them out and asked them if you, Babe, Tiny, Billy, I, and a few others were athletic. It is hard to say what the type is—but it is not athletic. You agree, don't you?

I'm so thrilled over being in the May Court. May Day is going to be the biggest day of my life. I'm going to wear green. Sure am glad 'cause I think it is very becoming.

There will be no rest for the wicked now. Gladys Neal has moved to fourth floor West. Can you imagine it? Expect she has appointed herself president of the "Uplift Society for Corrupted Youth." More power to her.

Our friend Sal has taken to wiggling and bowing. She seems to enjoy it, so guess it's K. O. You know the order can't get along without one Phi Mu at least.

Tiny is just as sweet as ever and her lovely disposition is improving daily.

K. T. is still singing about the chocolate soldiers and peppermint dogs.

Girl, I really am working those Freshmen overtime. You know I'm getting so old it hurts my back to lean over so I have a goat make up my bed every day.

I'm in a big hurry, so must stop.

Lots of love,

ADAH.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Bess, old girl:

It is just 'fore time for half our chapter to go forth from these halls of learning. Last year we lost quality, but this year we are just losing quantity—thirteen Seniors, just think. Wonder who in the world will take Sara Mac's place as "meeting trotter." Honestly, everything that meets on this campus Sara Mac's right there. Don't see any prospects of having a Student Body President in the chapter again for several years. So I believe the chapter will miss some of us Seniors.

Bess, we just can't get through the year without some Nashville Freshmen. Got three this year. Once more there are Monroes in the chapter—two of them. Some of the goats are really very talented and fairly intelligent. By the way, the Tri Deltas are getting intellectual. Did you ever think it of us?

Oh, I haven't told you how proud we are of our alumnae in town. Really we are rivaling Chi Omega, Bess. You just ought to see Sara Faw. She certainly has the married lady's air.

I sure do wish Huff had stopped by on her way from New York. We read all about Grace Moore in the papers. Just think she sang for us down at the house.

Bess, please come up to see us real soon.

Love in Alpha Theta Phi,

EDNA.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Dearest Fran:

We are doing our best to live up to what you all taught us. We try not to be seen except in the company of five or six of our sisterhood. All twenty of our Sophomores came back and the pin which they wear constantly, is really very becoming to them.

Sara Davie has some real cute new pink dresses for the spring. With her coloring won't she look precious? She has lots of furs, flowers, etc., to go with the dresses.

How about Peg Hollowell getting married. I can just see her keeping house. These Elizabeth City girls must have "it." Margaret Sawyer doesn't spend all of her time courting her books.

Nancy Oldham was out on the Hockey field the other day and got hit on the head, but it was an arrow and not a kite that hit her.

The chapter will lose a lot this year when these Seniors leave—but we still have our national standing.

Kappa Alpha Theta love,

BEECYE.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Maggie, dear:

I've been intending to write to you for ages but I have just been so busy. The duties of Pan-Hellenic President are certainly great. We've just been doing something every minute.

I know you want to know all about the chapter. All of them are adorable. Everyone had a new fur coat this winter and they looked precious in them. All of us haven't finished getting our Spring wardrobes yet. Virginia Steere has seventeen adorable new dresses and thirteen pairs of cute shoes.

You just ought to see our Freshmen. Elzada and Dot are just too cute for words and Jennie Puryear dances marvelously. The rest are either from Roanoke or little sisters.

Charlotte has been a right good chapter president, but mighty hard-boiled. Babe, we sure have wished for you this year. The chapter average needs your brilliant grades.

Well, I'll send you a card from Europe.

Love in the Bond,

ARMST.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Harriet, dear:

You've heard about Louisa being May Queen, haven't you? I'm just so proud of her, imagine my roommate. I know she is going to make a beautiful queen if she will just hold her shoulders still. We are all working on her. My dear you ought to see how she dresses up this spring. Her "cupboard" is just full of adorable spring models.

Louise and Mary Reed still think that heaven is fifty miles over the mountains and that they are very necessary parts of it. They are teaching their Sophomores to think the same.

Margaret Gordon is busy embroidering cup towels and making aprons. We seem to have our brides every year.

We got some cute Freshmen and all of them could be pledged—imagine that.

Just thought I would write you a note, and tell you a little about the chapter. Haven't time for more.

Love,

BETTY.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Dearest Mary:

Oh we are so excited over having a new house. We've ordered our pins and they are beautiful. The house is going to be adorable. We go down every few minutes to look at it.

Pan-Hellenic has been mighty nice to us especially Maggie V. We have to consult her quite often.

We got some real cute Freshmen. Milly Ogden can dance and play tennis and she seems to be very popular—especially with certain people. We have the cutest twins. They dress just alike all the time, you can hardly tell them apart.

Sayers is still getting just as much kick out of living as ever.

Come up and see the chapter for yourself. How about coming for commencement. We'll give you a party at our new house.

Love,

MARIE.

DELTA ZETA

Liz, dear:

We have all been so busy studying that we haven't had time to write. This is just going to be a note 'cause I must get back to my books.

Had you heard that Shorty Austin has again changed her mode of coiffure? Of course we think she is improved but we may be blinded by our sisterly love. Some others outside the chapter seem to think it looks better too.

Even at Randolph-Macon there is a 'Berger Stand. This time it is an Adele Berger (not Hamberger) who does her standing with the faculty (incidentally through the son of one of the members).

Liz, we've studied a lot and tried hard but we didn't even win the scholarship cup this year. I'm all for changing the type to real frivolous, social butterflies. I'm going to bring up the matter at the next fraternity meeting. Let me know what you think about it.

All my love,

SCHAEFER.

SIGMA KAPPA

Dearest Nell:

I don't do anything but sit around and dream all the time. I have so much to think about—know how it is. Then, too, this spring weather wasn't made for studying.

You should have been up here this week. Harral had a birthday and it was a gala day—parties for her every minute and a million or more presents. It's nice that she can enjoy her birthdays now while she's young 'cause it won't be long before she will stop having them.

Billy Monroe is still our little song-bird. She is quite a help to the Senior line—sings all twelve verses to every song.

Blanche has more time to put on her work this year. Wonder where she lost "it."

You ought to have been up here this year. A certain young man is steadily changing his fraternity relations. Honey, I sympathize with you. I fear for you next year.

Lots of Sigma Kappa love,

EMILY.

KAPPA DELTA

Frances, honey:

Oh, I just wish you would come up here to see us. Honestly I do. It wouldn't be any trouble at all. Now, Sugar, please come. I really mean it.

Frances, I don't know whether the chapter and pledges respect me or not. I try so hard to be dignified—but don't seem to succeed. I just don't know what to do.

Sara Kelly's May Day was quite a success. Sara is so very efficient. We just couldn't get along without her. Whenever she undertakes to do anything we know that everything is going to be all right.

You know when Norma and Laura graduated, we thought that we were delivered from the pure and holy. Babe, we got tricked bad. Phoebe Edmunds, since she came out Am Sam, has been trying to guide the whole chapter in the righteous path. Next year she is going to try to run all twelve chapters.

Next year, it is going to look as if a plague has hit the Kappa Delta chapter—but we are all leaving either because we want to or because we are graduating. That's a help, don't you think.

I don't know what I would have done without Adelia this year. She has been so grand about hearing me say the pledge service and initiation. She has been a big help in other ways too.

Love in Kappa Delta,

MINNIE.

AM SAM

This is not a fairy story and this picture is not one of Sleeping Beauty. This is a true story and this picture shows a loyal Am Sam alumna who came from a distant town to enjoy the annual Saint Patrick's Night Vigil and spent it in this way.

The loyal sisters are having a right hard time. The school is changing their type for them. They won't even have the Fire Chief for next year.

S. T. A. B.

Those striking, tall, attractive, dark girls. Aren't they knockouts? They originated to oppose the Am Sams but it seems that in order to keep a balance of power at Randolph-Macon they had better consolidate with the Am Sams to compete against Omega and Pi.

If poor Caesar could have seen his most recent mourner he would probably have turned over in his grave.

Frances Salter and Lucy Kemper are still right small. But maybe they will grow up as they get older.

The A in S. T. A. B. must stand for Adelia—the backbone of the order.

OMEGA

Now, isn't she sweet? She thinks she is in love with that boy. A true Omega 'cause she is living up to its meaning—

Object
Matrimony
Eve
Got
Adam

Shreveport is rivaling Nashville for Omega fame. By the way, when will Tri Delta regain its prestige in this order?

PI

Oh, what brings tears to the eyes of this fair maid? Can it be that she is sad? Oh, my goodness! no—by no means sad! Does the bandage on her arm indicate a wound? Can it be that she is mourning the loss of some poor relative? No, wrong place, brother, those who mourn live in a hut among the whispering pines. You forget the Ides of March is past. This maid is not suffering from a broken heart. Perhaps you do not recognize it but she is imitating the weeping willow. I should have said trying to imitate. Oh, yes, her aim in life is, if not now, eventually, at least to have that good old willowy figure. Here's hoping that Hope Marston and the Andersons live to a ripe old age.

The college as a whole likes these cute girls. Therefore, it is ready to offer its suggestions. Why don't the Pi's get the May Queen sometime—especially since May Day is their day? Maybe that is the reason Lela Germany took Omega instead.

But there is little more to say. Since Monday is wash day, they have certainly looked trimmed and starched every Tuesday this year. There is hope, there is hope, just you mark my words, children, they will blossom forth some day. For May is the time for blossoming.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College

offers to the ambitious and well-prepared girl the opportunity to do thorough work leading to the A. B. degree under the most wholesome physical and moral conditions and at the lowest consistent cost.

¶ Proud of her inheritance, RANDOLPH-MACON is steadily making definite progress in all worthwhile ways, and, though conservative in those things that are proved to be of permanent value, is alert to the development of educational thought and to the needs of the women of our own day.

¶ A catalogue and any information desired will be sent on application.

We have spent a year, successfully, in establishing a bookshop designed especially to meet the book needs of the colleges in Lynchburg. Randolph-Macon has been primarily responsible, in its discriminating book-buying, for our success.

There is no better college bookshop in the South.

THE IMPRINT OF PRIDE

*P*RINTING is the great constructive force of the modern civilized world. It plays the indispensable part in the dissemination of news, in the expression and progression of political ideals, in the records and exchange of commerce and industry. It democratizes education, science, art, music—and broadens the scope of everything it touches. To appreciate its high place in the esteem of an enlightened world, PRINTING MUST BE WELL DONE. Our offering to the cause of BETTER PRINTING is REPRESENTED IN THIS ANNUAL
